Air Pollution

by Li Chiu Wing Christy 6A

Everybody hates air pollution. In recent years, air pollution in Hong Kong becomes more serious. There are many causes. The three main reasons are listed below.

First of all, there are too many drivers and too many cars. Vehicles and factories give out black smoke. The lorries produce a lot of smoke, too. Therefore, the air is getting worse.

Secondly, people always turn on the car engines while waiting, and their cars give out a lot of harmful gas. Moreover, the nasty smell makes people sick. It also wastes power supply.

Lastly, factories and power stations give out smoke. There are a lot of chemicals in the air. It is bad for our health. People may have lung cancer.

In order to solve air pollution problems, Hong Kong Government and citizens ought to work together. We should use public transport instead of cars. If we need to drive, we should turn off the car engines while we are waiting. We can also choose to drive electric vehicles instead of diesel vehicles. Electric vehicles are more environmentally friendly than diesel vehicles. We should do our part to stop air pollution.

A Thank You Letter To My Teacher

by Liang Man Yi Amy 6B

Dear Miss Wong,

I would like to thank you for your patience. You are one of the best teachers in our school. I like you very much. You always teach us patiently. When my classmates are naughty, you don't get angry with them.

When I was young, you helped me read English words in class. You taught me how to speak English fluently and correctly. I have improved a lot in these years.

You are a patient teacher. I remembered once I talked with my friends during lessons. You did not get angry with me. You told us to pay attention and keep quiet while learning. I will never forget that.

I will make more new friends and study hard in my new secondary school. I wish you good health and all the best in the future.

Yours sincerely,
Amy Liang

What do you want to be when you grow up? by Li Ying Ying Nicky 6D

When I was little, I didn't like science and I knew nothing about it. One day, I read a book about science and I found that science is interesting. I decided to become a scientist when I grow up because it is a meaningful job. I can invent things for people, do experiments and research.

Being a scientist is not easy. Scientists need to be knowledgeable so that they can find ways to solve problems. Scientists cannot think of new inventions unless they are creative. Also, they cannot be absent-minded because they need to remember the theory.

I think this job is a perfect job for me because I am creative and hard-working. I really get a kick out of doing experiments. I can stay calm under time pressure, too. I think I will become a brilliant scientist one day.

Although being a scientist is difficult, it is never a castle in the air. I will work hard and get good results in exams to achieve my dream. Also, I will read more books about science. I am sure you will see me in a television programme talking about my inventions one day.

What do you want to be when you grow up?

by Foo Lok Yin Rocky 6B

I want to be a chef when I grow up because it is an interesting and meaningful job. If I become a chef, I will cook food for people and give happiness to the guests.

Chefs need to be careful. They need to be careful when cooking food in the kitchen. Chefs also need to be hard-working. They need to read a lot about cookery books so that they can create new dishes for people.

I think this job is suitable for me because I am careful and hard-working. Sometimes, I cook food for my family and I think it is fun. I hope I can be a chef someday.

I really want to be a chef. From now on, I should try to cook different food so that I can improve my cooking skills. Also, I should practice cooking in my free time. I am sure I will be a popular chef when I grow up.

An Accident

by Lam Nga Sze Nancy 6C

Last Sunday, I practised bicycle in Hong Kong Park. It was crowded. I met my friend, Joe, there. I felt surprised and we rode bicycle together. I said happily, "Let's have a bicycle competition. I am sure I will win!" Joe agreed.

I rode my bicycle as fast as I could. The people in the park stood aside and scolded us angrily because they didn't want to get hurt. Joe said loudly, "Andrew, don't ride too fast! Be careful!" But I did not listen to him.

Suddenly, my bicycle was out of control because I rode too fast. I felt scared. Then, I crashed onto a woman and she fell down! She shouted, "Oh no! I think my leg is broken!" Joe saw it so he called the police for help.

That woman was very angry and she scolded me angrily. I said sorry to her. Soon, the ambulance came and she was sent to the hospital. Luckily, she did not hurt much. I learnt that I shouldn't ride the bicycle too fast in the park.

What Do You Want To Be When You Grow Up? by Chan Cheuk Hei Henry 6A

I want to be a teacher when I grow up because it is a fun and easy job to me. If I become a teacher, I will teach students and interview parents.

Teachers need to be hard-working. They need to know many things so that they can teach students. Teachers need to be patient and they should not have a lazy tongue.

I think this job is suitable for me because I am hard working and careful. I like children. I hope I can be a teacher someday.

I really want to be a teacher. From now on, if I have something that I do not know, I will ask my teachers and read more books. I am sure I will be a popular teacher when I grow up.

A Robbery

by Lin Man Ching Annice 6C

Last week, Sam walked his dog on Smart Dog Street in Kowloon Tong. The dog's name was 'Manson' and it was brown. Sam and Manson felt relaxed.

Suddenly, Manson stopped at a back street because it smelt something strange. "Oh my goodness! A robber is using his knife to scare the lady," Sam whispered. The robber had a scar on his face and a moustache. He was in black jeans and a striped T-shirt. He said loudly, "Take out your money and jewellery! Fast!"

"Go, Manson!" Sam shouted loudly. Manson wanted to bite the robber. He was very scared. The lady said, "Bite him!" Then, she called the police quickly. After the police came, they caught the robber. The lady was thankful.

"I am Noon, the robber's sister. He is Tommy. He robbed me because my dad gave a lot of money to me before he died. But Dad did not give any money to him. Thank you for your help!" The lady told Sam and the policemen. Finally, Tommy was in prison.

The Enormous Crocodile Clever Trick Number 5

by Tang Ching Him Cyrus 6D

The EC came to St Patrick's School and saw there were a lot of children, he thought students of class 6D were the most delicious students in the school. He really wanted to eat the whole class. He turned himself as small as a mouse with magic. Then, he jumped into Cyrus Tang's school bag and hid in it.

Cyrus Tang didn't know the EC was in his school bag, so he brought the EC to class 6D. The EC saw the book "The Enormous Crocodile". He was angry because class 6D knew his history. He said, "It is now for clever trick number five! Haha!" He returned to his real size. Cyrus was scared, so he ran and found Miss Lam to help but the EC chased him.

After Cyrus Tang found Miss Lam. She shouted, "Don't move! Bad crocodile!" She told the EC that he shouldn't eat children. The EC was ashamed. Finally, he became a vegetarian and lived in the beautiful lake forever.
