Dr. Tang's Advice

by Leung Wan Chi Tiffany 5A

Dear Judy Yeung,

How are you? You came to see me yesterday. Let me give you some advice to stay healthy.

About your eating habit, you drink too many cups of coffee each day. You should not do that. You should drink at least 6-8 glasses of water every day. You have only one meal every night. You should eat regularly. You should eat three meals each day. Eating vegetables and fruit are good for your health.

You always get sick easily because you don't have time to do exercise. You should do more exercise such as playing football and running. You can try to do some exercise after work or early in the morning.

You only sleep 2-3 hours a day. That's not enough. You should sleep at least 8 hours a day. Then you will feel much better.

In conclusion, you should eat healthily, do exercise regularly and always be happy.

STAY HEALTHY!

Yours,
Dr. Tang

A New Festival

by Yip Shun Yat James 5B

The name of the new festival is called The Happy Children's Day. This festival is on the third day of the ninth lunar month. All the people can enjoy a holiday and play with their children happily.

To celebrate this festival, children can listen to music and have a great dinner with their families. They can ask their parents to take them anywhere they like. They can eat a lot of chocolate puddings, ice cream and jelly. They can have lots of gifts that they want.

I love this special festival because children can have so much fun.

My Naughty Classmates

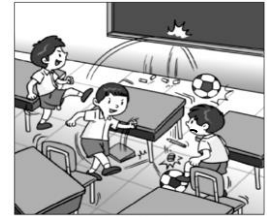

by Yu Ngai Ting Nelson 5D

Dear Gary,

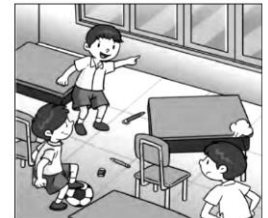

I would like to tell you about my recess last Friday. When I was reading a story book, someone said, "Pass me the ball!" There were some students playing football in the classroom but they shouldn't do that. I felt surprised!

I saw Tom and Ben playing football. They kicked the ball towards the blackboard and all the chalk fell onto the floor. It was completely a mess. My classmates were naughty. I tried to stop them but they didn't listen. I felt angry.

They ignored me and even kicked the ball harder. Ben said, "Tom, let's shoot the ball towards the windows!" I felt worried because the windows would be broken and someone might get hurt, so I told the teacher. I felt infuriated.

Finally, the teacher came to the classroom and shouted, "Stop it!" She asked them to stand outside the school office after lunch and she gave them a demerit. They also needed to stay after school for a month. They promised not to play football in the classroom again. I felt sorry for them. I hope they will behave themselves in the future.

Love,
Alan
