When I grow up ...

by Bo Ka Yiu Kari 6B

I want to be a vet when I grow up because it is an interesting and fun job. If I become a vet, I will fix the teeth of the animals and love all kinds of animals.

Vets need to be helpful. They need to do operations with animals so that sick animals can get better. Vets also need to be caring so that they can take care of injured animals.

I think this job is suitable for me because I like to take care of animals. Also I am caring and patient. I hope I can be a vet when I grow up.

I really want to be a vet. From now on, I will learn more about animals because vets need to know animals well. I am sure I will be the best vet when I grow up.

A Reply Letter to the EC

Dear Enormous Crocodile,

How are you? Thank you for your letter. I am sorry to tell you that I will not go to your Children Flesh Tasting Party.

Please don't eat children! They are chewy and dirty. My friend, Bear, caught some children last year. When he was eating the children, his teeth dropped out. He felt pain and he cried. He needed to see the dentist. He said that children were too chewy. My mother told me that she saw a boy who didn't wash his hands after playing football. His hands were so dirty. If you eat children, you may get sick easily.

Also, it is so dangerous to eat children. My best friend, Tanna, went to the park and saw a family having a picnic. Tanna was eating grass. When the children saw Tanna, they caught her and put her in the cage and brought her home as pets. Don't eat children! Otherwise, their parents may catch you. You will become crocodile soup.

Perhaps, you may try some fruit and vegetables such as apples, berries or carrots. They are yummy and healthy. Will you join my Fruit and Vegetable Party next week? Write back soon.

Your friend,
Cute Rabbit

A Visit to the Elderly Home

by Cheng Hei Tung Marida 6A

19th May, 2022

Sunny

I did some voluntary work today. My classmates, Felix, Marcus, Gordon, Tom and I went to Happy Life Elderly Home in Kowloon City. We brought some fruits, some towels and food with us. We arrived at one o'clock. The old people welcomed us happily.

First, we sang songs. We clapped hands together when we sang. The elderly liked the songs that we sang. We felt happy. After singing some songs with them, we gave them some presents. I gave presents such as biscuits, fruits and some towels to the old people. They felt warm. They thought that the presents were useful. Then we told them about our school life. We had a great time chatting together. They felt joyful too.

Finally, we played some games with them again. I danced with my classmates in front of them and sent blessings to the elderly. Hope we can see each other again.

From this event, I have learnt that I should care for the old people.

A Thank You Letter To A Friend

by Chan Wing Yui Thomas 6C

Dear Alex Lau,

I would like to write this letter to say thank you to you. You are one of my best friends at St. Patrick's School.

You are a kind and patient person. When I don't know how to do my homework, you teach me. You take good care of me. At recess, you chat with me. You always forgive me when I do something wrong. You are also a generous person. When I forget to bring my stationery, you lend yours to me. You always share some snacks with me. It makes me feel glad.

I remembered once I had some problems. I was sad and I stayed in the classroom quietly at recess. You listened to me patiently. Then you gave me advice. You shared your candies with me and made me feel happy again. I will never forget this.

We will study at a secondary school soon. I wish you good health and all the best in the future. We will be good friends forever.

Keep in touch. Miss you!

Yours sincerely,

Thomas Chan

Water Pollution in Hong Kong

by Ng Ka Chun Issac 6B

In recent years, water pollution in Hong Kong becomes more serious.

First of all, people pour polluted water in the sewage and river. So the water is polluted. People will get sick if they drink the water. I think the government should give warning to the people who pollute the water.

Secondly, ship accidents lead to oil spills. Therefore, animals in the sea die. The companies can use environmental friendly ships which use clean energy source.

Thirdly, people throw rubbish into the sea. As a result, sea animals may get sick if they eat the rubbish. I think the government can encourage people to do voluntary work to keep the sea clean, such as beach clean-up. Also, the police can patrol on the beach.

All parties should work together to solve the water pollution problems so that Hong Kong will be a clean and beautiful place to live in.

Making Friends

by Tam Hei Tung Hailey 6D

Making friends is not easy.
Everyone is so busy.
Soon, the recess ends.
We have no time to make new friends!

You need to be active.
Nothing happens when you are passive.
No one talks even if they are free.
That is not what I want to see.

If you make a friend luckily,
enjoy your time happily.
You will never feel lonely
if you take it seriously!

Arguments always happen in friendship.
Calm down and share your potato chips.
Do reflections every weekend,
And you can keep all your friends.

Our School

by Wei Xin Yan Abby 6D

We want a swimming pool
For our St. Patrick's School
To make it come true,
Each day we do our best
And we won't do any less.

Miss Cheung is our principal
Who is always wise and cheerful.
She is our good role-model.
We all want to be her.
Which one do you prefer?

My best friend is Cherry.
We have a lot of good memories.
We read fun books in the library.
We both can speak English,
And want to learn Spanish.

My classmates are lovely and nice.
St. Patrick's School is the most joyful place
Where I can find laughter and pretty faces.
I will miss all of you always
Remember to keep in touch in our ways.
