A Sick Experience by Law Sum Yuet Ashley 4C

Last week, Karen received her pocket money because she helped her mum to sweep the floor. She felt happy and excited.

When she was thinking about how to use the money, she saw a man who was selling fish balls. There were cockroaches and flies on it. But Karen still bought some to try.

After she went home, her stomach was hurt. Her mum saw her and asked, "What did you eat?" "I ate fish balls from a food stall in the street," answered Karen.

Karen's mum cooked some congee for her. After Karen ate it, she felt better. She said, "Thanks Mum, I feel better now." Then, her mum gave her a cup of water to drink. Karen went to bed earlier because she wanted to recover quickly. After two days, she recovered!

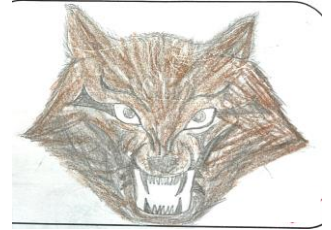

She learnt that she should never eat the food from the food stall in the street.

Muscle is Missing

by Tse Tin Shun Pontus 4B

My dog Muscle went missing at Happy Beach on Monday night. Muscle is six years old. He is brown. He has two big eyes, small brown ears, a long brown tail, huge muscles and a big mouth. He likes to do push-ups and run. When he is happy, he jumps. My pet loves to do exercise because he wants to get stronger. He likes to eat beef and bananas because they are healthy.

I miss my Muscle very much and I feel sad and worried because he is my only pet. If you see him, please call 99913555. Thank you.

My Favourite Family Members

by Zheng Yi Men Marie 4A

There are five members in my family. They are my father, my mother, my sister, my brother and me.

My father and my mother have different jobs. My father is a chef and my mother is a housewife. They are different ages. My father is older than my mother. He is 46 years old and she is 45 years old. They are different heights and weights. My father is taller and heavier than my mother.

They have different hobbies. My father likes cooking and running. On Sundays, we usually go cycling. They like eating the same kind of food. They both like eating chicken and lobsters.

I love my mother and my father. I also love my family.

The Person I Admire

by Lau Chun Kit Jay 4D

The person I admire most is Ludwig van Beethoven! Let me tell a story about his life! Beethoven was a talented musician. He never gives up. When he was five, he was taught by his father. He could play the piano and violin. In 1778, he first performed music on the stage. What a brave boy! Later, he wrote a piece of music. He went to Vienna to learn music when he was twenty. He must be very talented because he could study at the "capital of music".

Unluckily, Beethoven couldn't hear well in 1796. Later, he became ill but he didn't give up and worked harder. He decided to write more pieces of music. At last, he got the name "musical genius" and composed about 722 pieces of music. Then he died but he won the heart of many people. He was the most hard-working musician.

I like him because he can be strong in tough times. I wish I could do the same as him. He always believed in himself too. That's why I admire him very much. Everyone, try your best!

After School*by Yan Sze Man Sammie 4B

Dear Jason,

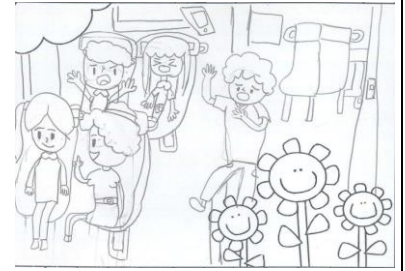

Yesterday, I went home by bus after school. I was looking out the window. The girl next to me was reading a book. The women in front of us were talking to each other.

A man was walking from behind. The man was playing games on the phone. The man fell and his phone was thrown in the air. The passengers felt scared because his phone was about to hit the girl.

At the end, the girl got hit by the phone but she was not hurt. The man said sorry to her.

How was your day? Write back soon.

Love,
Eric

8th March was No Queen Day, so the queen was free and she went to Ocean Park in the morning.

Hungry Fox

By Leung Cheuk Shing Frank 4C

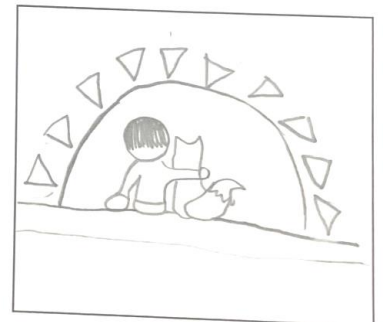

Once upon a time, there was an evil fox. One day, he woke up at half past six in the morning at his terrible and creepy home. He felt hungry. He wanted to find some yummy things to eat.

First, he went to the kitchen and looked for some delicious food. But he could not find any food. There was no food at home, so he needed to go to the noisy market to buy some food.

He put on his big jacket and blue trousers and left his home to buy some food. Then, he walked to the market and planned what to buy on his way. When he arrived at the market, he decided to buy some fruit. He wanted to buy apples, bananas and oranges.

Oh no! The fox did not have any money. He felt angry and yelled, "Where is my money?". Then, he went back home. But when he saw gingerbread man at the river, he wanted to eat him!

Suddenly, Harry Potter came out with a magic wand. He made some bread for the fox and turned the gingerbread man to a handsome man. He became the old lady's and the old man's son and no one would eat him again. When the fox ate the bread, he became a friendly fox who finally became gingerbread man's pet. They lived together happily ever after.
